Veterans Day Parade

Every year on November 11th, in Hometown, U.S.A., a parade is held to honor the town's veterans. The festivities begin at exactly 11 a.m. on the 11th day of the 11th month. Daniel and four of his friends have relatives who served in the military, so this year they were proud to march in the band. After the parade, each family gathered for dinner. Using the clues and the chart below, match the band members with their last names, the instruments they played, the branch of the military in which their relatives served, and what their families ate.

CLUES:

1. The family that enjoyed roast beef had two Navy veterans in the family.
2. Enrique was proud that his grandfather had been a pilot in the Air Force.
3. The Lowes ate spaghetti and asked the trumpet player in the family to play a few tunes.
4. Brett, the grandson of Lieutenant Commander Jenkins, played the drums.
5. Daniel Ortega's family enjoyed pulled pork for dinner.
6. Susan Davis was a flute player whose grandmother had served in the Army.
7. The Diaz family enjoyed chili and the flute player's family had stew.
8. Lisa, whose great aunt had served in the Coast Guard, did not play a brass instrument.
